EXPECTED VISITORS TO THE EXHIBITION.—Among the most welcome of our visitors during the Exhibition period will be the Maharajah of the Belhar Mounted Staffs, at least two-thirds of whom are expected to be British. The Maharajah, who is a very strong, will hold its own camp, and special arrangements are being made with the East Indian Railways for the carriage of their horses.

Englishman.

DEPARTURE OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.—As he announced his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor will leave for England on the 10th inst., and his departure was signified by the arrival of the Hon. Mr. Rivers Thompson arrived at the Mayo Hospital Ghant on the 10th inst., and went on board the yacht "Thothos," which was accompanied by the Hon. Mr. Rivers Thompson was accompanied by his wife and children.

Mr. Levinge, Mr. Lyall, and Dr. Lethbridge. Mr. Westmacott, the Joint Magistrate of Nowrah, was accompanied by his wife and children as far as Bally and Utopah. The usual police arrangements were made, and a salute from the HORSES FROM AUSTRALIA.—The first horse ship of the season, the Loch Torrodon, has arrived after a successful passage of 41 days, with a batch of horses belonging to the Glasgow Club. One of the most celebrated on board was Handy Andy, a son of Paddy, and a most magnificent specimen of the weight-carrying thorough bred he is. Looking big and well, and should give a great account of himself during the coming season, for he is on a sounder, more hardy, but is not a good performer on the flat; he stands nearly 16 hands high, with an unmistakable Pacific head.

Sir Peter and Handy Andy both were formerly the property of Mr. M. Loughlin, and were sold on the same day, in March 1882, at the sale of that gentleman's horses; Sir Peter to Mr. John Wilson for 500 gu., and Handy Andy to Mr. Hurtle Fisher for 550 gu. Amongst the batch are some 25 well-bred horses, and a lot of out of well-bred mares.

A MAN BRATEN TO DEATH BY POLICEMEN.—A shocking inquest was made on Sunday last, teaching the death of Teen Cowrie Lall Sircar, a compositor in the office of the Hindoo Patriot. It was originally represented that the deceased was see Ghose's Street, and that while being removed to the hospital, he died on the way between the hours of 2 and 3 a.m. of the 17th ultimo. At the inquiry, it was discovered that the deceased had died from rupture of the liver, and other internal injuries caused by a fall or blow on the head. The evidence of the deceased said that he was struck by two or three constables with batons. This led the Court to sift the matter thoroughly and examine all the witnesses available. The Coroner, moreover, held a post-mortem investigation to find out and gain information from the records. The inquiry was then continued, proceeded with at the house of the Hon'ble Kristodas Pal. According to the evidence of police man, who threatened to "see him." Others spoke to the deceased knocking at their doors for admission, while a third batch of witnesses heard the noise of blows, but could not identify the parties. One witness said that he saw a constable beat the deceased, and that the constable was saying he could not find the man. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased died from a rupture of the liver, caused by criminal force and violence having been used by one or more policemen who have not been identified.—Indian Daily News.

Assistance was promptly rendered and twenty-one of the men were rescued from the rubble. Of the remaining eleven, all semblance of humanity, were dug out from under the ruins, and fourteen coolies were rescued, suffering from injuries more or less severe. The building's a parallelogram some 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with a central aisle and a row of pillars in the centre and the four walls. The central pillars gave way from the weight of the heavy stone composed of beams and tiles, and it was a miracle that all under it at the time were not crushed.

minutes later, would have been much heavier, as the men were just being mustered, and all had now entered the building. The manager of the godown said that he had not seen the men enter. He had just entered the doorway to muster the men when he looked up and saw the roof coming down. A second later and he would have probably shared the fate of the unfortunate men who have perished. He has been injured. To all appearances the pillars ~~and~~ have been quite rotten, the masonry work of the original building together with the roof inferior in description. The building which came down, with some others adjoining, is the property of Babu Jyeshth Chunder Dutt, and it was repaired only a seem to be in a most dangerous condition; the beams supporting the roofs are bent, and the enormous heavy roofs are only supported by a row of pillars, and the side walls, which are of a great age, are in the process of falling down. Fortunately there was no loss of life, as the accident happened on a Sunday, and there were no coolies at work there on that day. It is surely worth somebody's while to inquire into the condition of these buildings. Large numbers of people are employed in the work, and an accident similar to the one under notice is sure to lead to great loss of life. No doubt a searching investigation will be made into the circumstances attending the occurrence at this place.

N.-W. PROVINCES, PUNJAB AND OUDH.

A POLICEMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—The Deputy Inspectors of Police at Delhi have, we are told, formed a "Rights' Association," with the city Kotwal for President, and one Mohan Lal as Secretary, the object being to discuss matters concerning force, and to hear complaints from constables. What will be the end of these "small beginnings?"

BURMAH.

A SOMNOLENT POLICEMAN.—A Rangoon correspondent of the Statesman says:—A prisoner under sentence of death committed suicide in a very determined manner. He made a rope of his prison jacket and hung himself to the hinges of his cell. The guard who had been placed over him, a native of India, was asleep at the time, although he had been particularly warned not to do so.

watch his prisoner as he had tried to commit suicide previously. The guard was sentenced to 15 months under the Police Act, to a fine of one month's pay for neglect of duty, and he was also dismissed from the service. The Local Government think that sentence was too lenient a one, looking to the constant dereliction of duty by policemen, and the Judicial Commissioner has been moved to call for the proceedings with a view of enhancing the sentence.

A SPECIAL general meeting of the members of the European and Anglo-Indian Defence Association was held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on August 1, to confirm the alterations in the rules passed at a previous special general meeting.

In opening the meeting, the president, Mr. J. Keswick, stated that the first duty before the members of the Association was the confirmation of the amended rules passed at the special general meeting held on July 4. He would read them to

"And of such representatives of Branch Committees as the Council shall appoint under Rule 13 provided that total number of such representatives shall not exceed twenty."

And, third, to alter in Rule 87, page (7), in sixth line, three-fourths to "one-half."

The proposal was seconded by the Vice-President, Mr. J. M. Miller, and on being put to the vote carried unanimously.

The President then rose and said that it had been thought advisable to take advantage of the presence gathering of the members of the Association show them that the Council had not been idle.

But before going into this part of this subject he wished to explain to the members the reasons for the racial position of the Association.

seemed to him to be highly satisfactory, and which was as follows:—

STATE OF FUNDS.		Has
Amount advertised	..	1,335
Received not advertised	..	1,680
Total	..	3,015
Less sum over advertised	..	1,680
Total	..	1,335
Members' subscriptions	..	750
Total received all accounts	..	1,680

At this announcement and at the statement of the chairman that one lakh of rupees had been tested in 1 per cent. Government Paper, so as to be safe, but still to be available for the purpose of the Association, there was loud and constant applause.

The President then went on to detail the ways in which certain information had been communicated to friends and sympathisers in England, and to set out a long list of the persons in this direction who had been approached by the Council, and the manner in which provoking and hearty responses from the audience. He also drew attention to the memoranda which had been sent home :—

Signature
... H. H.

He might also mention, and he was sure that every man there would be proud to hear that the ladies had secured home a petition craving the protection of the Queen and bearing less than 5,000 signatures, (Loud and prolonged applause.)

Mr. A. B. Miller moved: in the interests of the community, in the interests of the people, that this Association should continue to exert its utmost energies to effect the withdrawal of the Criminal Procedure Amendment Bill."

A vote of thanks to the chair was then cast after which the proceedings came to a close.

The market continues firm, and notwithstanding the disinclination of shippers to operate, dealers have raised the prices one rupee per candy all round. Purchases of local cotton are also on a restricted scale. Dry weather has been of a longer duration throughout the country than was expected, and a little anxiety is now felt in some districts. INSURANCE.—Receipts from the interior are pretty heavy, but the demand for export also continues on a fair scale, and prices in consequence are well maintained at Rs. 10 to Rs. 10 1/2 per cent.

RAFFLES.—Supplies of Gujarat are still scanty, owing to the reports there being engaged in transshipping operations in the hills after the subsiding of the recent floods. No transactions have taken place, while the few dealers who hold any suitable lots are asking Rs. 7-12 to Rs. 7-14 per candy. Cawnpore, however, is starting more freely, and purchases are being made at Rs. 7-4 to Rs. 7-6.
